

Dear RC46 Officers/Members,

Greetings from Manila!

This issue for the last quarter of 2019 contains the entries submitted by our officers and members. I would like to thank them personally for writing despite their extremely busy schedules. RC46 Regional Representative for Japan, Johanna Zulueta, reports on the RC 46 sessions during the 2019 AACS Meeting in Oregon. This is followed a description of the timetable and panel sessions for the RC 46 Clinical Sociology at ISA Forum in Porto Alegre, Brazil in July 2020 by Vice President, Tina Uys. Please take note of the relevant deadlines.

Meanwhile, Agnès Vandeveldel-Rougale is calling for proposals for the International Symposium of Clinical Sociology on “Contemporary Subjectivations” to be held in Paris, France on June 2020. The deadline for proposal submissions is on January 15 (<https://www.sociologie-clinique.org/france/colloque-international-subjectivations-contemporaines-appel-a-contributions/>). Quite a number of activities were organized by clinical sociologists in Europe. The RISC General Assembly took place last November 25th in Paris, France (<http://www.sociologie-clinique.org/assemblee-generale-2019-le-25-novembre-a-paris/>). Jacques Rhéaume announces the next Congress of the International Association of the French Sociologists to be held in Tunis, Tunisia (July 2020); a conference on “Life Stories in a Changing World: at the Crossroads of Research, Education and Intervention HV2020 UQAM” will be held in Montréal, Québec in May 2020 and the formation of a small research team which advances the Clinical Sociology perspective, called TIP, (Work, Interculturality and Democratic Process).

Gianluca Piscitelli, in collaboration with an Italian agency of sociologists of communication called CONSCOM, is implementing a national project and calling for submissions for the QSC-Quaderni di Sociologia Clinica. We would like to congratulate two members for their publications: Johanna O. Zulueta and her book entitled “Transnational Identities on Okinawa’s Military Bases: Invisible Armies” and Miriam Boeri and her book entitled “Inside Ethnography: Researchers Reflect on the Challenges of Reaching Hidden Populations”.

We would like to encourage all of you to send us information about your publications and activities.

RC 46 clinical sociologists/practitioners -- more power to you and your dreams!

Emma Porio

ISA-RC 46 President (2019-2022)

ANNOUNCEMENTS

We would like to give a warm welcome to all the new members of RC 46 Clinical Sociology! Likewise, we give thanks to the old members who renewed their membership this past three months! We appeal to members whose memberships have expired to please renew your membership.

We highly appreciate you all for taking part in this organization's efforts/initiatives towards the development of clinical sociology all over the world. This newsletter serves as a space for communicating with other fellow members and/or updating each other of our activities in the field from different parts of the globe.

We highly encourage you to submit entries/updates about your professional activities and engagements for the next newsletter.

RC 46 Members Present at the 2019 AACS Meeting in Oregon

By Johanna Zulueta, RC46 Regional Representative (Japan)

Members of RC 46, led by RC 46 President Emma Porio, VP Tina Uys and Immediate Past President Jan Fritz, presented their work at the Association for Applied and Clinical Sociology (AACS) Annual Meeting held at the Embassy Suites in Portland Washington Square (Oct. 17-19, 2019). A total of four sessions were organized by RC 46.

Starting off on the first day, October 18th, Sharon Everhardt, Daniela Jauk, and Brenda Gill held a session on community gardening, "Veggies Against Barriers – An Interactive Workshop on (Community-) Gardening as Sociological Practice to Promote Social Change". The interactive workshop motivated the participants to think about how community gardening can promote awareness and effect social change. The afternoon session saw Tina Uys and Johanna Zulueta present their research work for the RC 46 Paper Session I: Clinical Sociology Interventions. Tina's research, "Protecting South African Whistleblowers: Policy and Practice", suggested policies to further protect whistleblowers in South Africa, while Johanna's paper, "Empowering Migrants through Leadership and Entrepreneurship: A Case Study of the Ateneo LSE Program in Tokyo”, examined a social entrepreneurship program by a university in the Philippines educating overseas Filipinos on financial literacy and leadership.

On the second day of the conference, three undergraduate students--Sakura Imamura, Minami Nakane, and Sayaka Aono--from Soka University (Japan) gave a presentation for the RC 46 Paper Session II: Clinical Sociology Interventions. Focusing on their work as BeLive Soka members--a student group addressing sexual harassment on campus – they discussed the consent workshops they organized to inform students (mainly Japanese) of the concept of consent, as well as misunderstandings and misinterpretations regarding consent and how this was associated with instances of sexual harassment on campus. Their presentation, “Sexual Violence in Japan and its Countermovement”, reported on the results of a survey they conducted among students on the effectiveness of the workshops in educating students regarding this issue. Sakura, Minami, and Sayaka are thesis advisees of RC 46 Regional Representative for Japan, Johanna Zulueta, and are scheduled to graduate in March 2020.

The last session on October 19th titled “Clinical Sociology, Citizen Science, and the Environment”, with presentations from Emma Porio, Jan Fritz, and Suava Salameh, examined various clinical sociological practices across the globe. Emma’s paper, “Participatory Community Risk Assessment: Citizen Science for a Gendered Climate Action”, investigated the case of flood prone communities in Metro Manila (Philippines), which offered opportunities for citizen science and gendered climate action among marginalized groups. Meanwhile, Jan shared her analysis of environmental conditions in U.S. prisons. She showed how prison life is affected by environmental issues in her paper on “Environmental Justice Issues and U.S. Prisons”. Capping the day was Swava’s study, “Building Capacity for Citizenship and Constructing Citizen Science: Case Study from Western Poland”, where she presented her ongoing work on citizen science in Western Poland.

Business Meeting. The RC 46 participation at the AACS was like a reunion of sorts for RC 46 and AACS members. During the business meeting, a suggestion was made to have the next RC 46 meeting in Poland. Suava Salameh was tasked to look into this possible venue for our meeting in 2021 as this would be more convenient for members in Europe. Meanwhile, Emma Porio, announced that the 2020 Asia-Pacific Sociological Association (APSA) Conference will be held in Manila on October 5-6, 2020. She will organize a couple of clinical sociology sessions within the APSA2020. We highly encourage RC 46 members to attend and present papers here, especially those from Asia. The call for abstracts will be in the January-March Newsletter.

During the business meeting, the following were nominated for the RC 46 Executive Board:

1. Agnès Vandeveld-Rougale (France)
2. Anna Pitta (Brazil)
3. David du Toit (South Africa)

*Electronic voting will be done in mid-January 2020.

Finally, the following were assigned/volunteered to chair the following RC 46 Award committees:

- 1) Lifetime Achievement –Tina Uys
- 2) Scholarly Award (book) – Jacques Rheaume
- 3) Scholarly Award (article) – Daniela Jauk (with the assistance of Melody Lehnerer)
- 4) Early Career Clinical Sociologist – Sharon Everhardt
- 5) Distinguished Service – Suava Salameh

Challenges of the 21st Century:
Democracy, Environment, Inequalities, Intersectionality
By Tina Uys, Vice President

RC 46 CLINICAL SOCIOLOGY AT ISA FORUM, PORTO ALEGRE, BRAZIL
JULY 2020

We look forward to welcoming all of you to the sessions hosted by RC46 sessions at the ISA Forum in Porto Alegre, Brazil from 14-18 July 2020. Those who submitted abstracts will have received notification of the acceptance of their abstracts. Confex is currently busy scheduling Joint Session, Round Table, and Poster sessions. As Program Coordinator, I will be responsible for scheduling the RC46 regular sessions between January 16 and January 26 2020.

January 31, 2020 24:00 GMT is the deadline for Applications for Registration Grants: Program Coordinator receives applications for ISA grants submitted by the participants using the required form. I need to submit a list of selected individuals and amounts recommended to the ISA Secretariat isa@isa-sociology.org for verification and approval by February 15, 2020 24:00 GMT

Registration deadline for presenters: March 19, 2020 24:00 GMT Registration must be paid by the deadline. Confex matches registrations with accepted presenters and will send out last reminder to register. Presenters who have failed to register will be automatically deleted from the program.

Please note: As you know, the ISA determines the number of sessions that each Research Committee can host based on the number of members who are both members of the ISA and the particular RC. RC46 received 16 sessions for the Forum in Porto Alegre as we have between 100 and 149 members. We therefore require that all presenters in our programme at the Forum should be members of both the ISA and RC46 to be included in our programme. If you are presenting a co-authored paper, at least one author should be a member of both ISA and RC46.

Keep in mind that ISA membership is valid for a period of 4 years. If you become a member now, you will still be a member at the time of the ISA World Congress in 2022. Also, ISA members register for the conference at a reduced rate.

April 1 – 17, 2020 24:00 GMT

- Session Organizer modifies sessions based on withdrawal of non-registered presenters.
- Chairs and discussants are assigned from among the registered participants.
- Program Coordinator completes sessions schedule according to the conference timetable.
- In case the type of an individual's presentation is changed, or if a presentation is transferred to a different session, Confex will send notifications to authors with final session and presentation details after April 30.

May 5, 2020 24:00 GMT

International Symposium of Clinical Sociology on “Contemporary Subjectivations” and recent and upcoming activities of clinical sociologists (Europe, Canada, Latin America, Iran)

By Agnès Vandeveldde-Rougale

Dear colleagues,

- 1) Please find information on the call for proposals (in French) for the International Symposium of Clinical Sociology on “Contemporary Subjectivations”, planned in June 2020 in Paris (France), can be accessed on: <https://www.sociologie-clinique.org/france/colloque-international-subjectivations-contemporaines-appel-a-contributions/> Proposals of no more than 1000 signs should be sent by January 15th to: colloquesocioclinique@gmail.com
- 2) Many activities involving clinical sociologists are organised in Europe. Among these, we can point out several symposia on various topics. A symposium was organized in Mons (Belgium) in September on “contemporary forms of domination : work, organization, management and market” (<https://web.umons.ac.be/fpse/fr/evenements/les-formes-contemporaines-de-lemprise-travail-organisation-management-et-marche/>); another one took place in November in Switzerland on “social work and socio professional insertion”

(<https://www.sociologie-clinique.org/suisse/2019/04/10/colloque-du-pars-le-travail-social-au-defi-des-politiques-dinsertion-socioprofessionnelle/>). Two international symposium will be organized in Paris (France): one on “Racisms and antiracisms: a multidisciplinary clinical approach”, on April 6-7th (<https://www.sociologie-clinique.org/france/colloque-racismes-et-antiracismes/>); one on “Contemporary subjectivations. Saying ‘I’ and ‘We’ in a complex world” from 24 to 26th June 2020, with the participation of members of the RC46. More information about this upcoming event will be posted on the RISC’s website (<https://www.sociologie-clinique.org/en/>). In addition, on November 25th, members of the RISC (international network of clinical sociology) gathered in Paris for its general assembly (<https://www.sociologie-clinique.org/assemblee-generale-2019-le-25-novembre-a-paris/>).

- 3) In America, one can mention the conference held in Uruguay in November 2019 on “Transformation in the social. Transformation in subjectivities” (<https://www.sociologie-clinique.org/latinoamerica/>) and the upcoming bilingual symposium on life-stories, to be held in Montreal (Canada) on May 19-22th (<https://sites.grenadine.uqam.ca/sites/hv/en/hv2020/>).
- 4) The RISC now has a representative for clinical sociology in Iran. A website dedicated to clinical sociology in the Persian world has been created in November 2019; see: <http://www.sociologie-clinique.org/irn-afg-tjk/>
- 5) Meanwhile, a number of books written by clinical sociologists have been released recently, in French, Spanish and Portuguese (several were advertised on : <https://www.sociologie-clinique.org>).

Congress of the International Association of French Sociologists, Life Stories in a Changing World: At the Crossroads of Research, Education and Intervention and A Clinical Sociology Group in Quebec, Canada

By Jacques Rhéaume

1) The next Congress of the International Association of the French Sociologists will be held next July 2020, from July 6 to 10, at Tunis, Tunisia. The global theme is: "La société morale: Enjeux normatifs dans les sociétés contemporaines", “the Moral Society: normative issues in contemporary societies”. You are invited to explore the AISLF Congress site: (<https://congres2020.aislf.org/pages/index.php>) And more specifically the program of the RC 19, Clinical sociology: (<https://congres2020.aislf.org/pages/32-aac.php?group=CR19>)

2) There is also this big event in Montréal, Québec, an information that Vincent de Gaulejac sent to you, through the RISC french network Bulletin. Just to indicate that there is an English Version of this Conference presentation on the website that is:

(<https://sites.grenadine.uqam.ca/sites/hv/fr/hv2020>) or HV2020 UQAM, through Google. The theme of that event is: Les histoires de vie dans un monde en transformation: au carrefour de la recherche, de la formation et de l'intervention// Life Stories in a Changing world: at the Crossroads of Research, Education and intervention. The dates: May 2020, 19-22 in Montreal.

3) We have, a year ago, constituted a small research team sharing a Clinical Sociology perspective, called TIP, a French expression, meaning "Travail, Interculturalité et Processus démocratique" (Work, Interculturality and Democratic Process). The group is multidisciplinary based (Sociology, Psychosociology, Management, Communication, Educational Sciences). The members are doing research and training regarding Health issues in the organization, organizational development, the cultural diversity in the workplace and in community groups, and they all focus on issues related to democracy development in groups, organizations and organizational settings. They mostly are using qualitative methodologies. The members: Jacques Rhéaume, Isabelle Ruelland, Sophie Hamisultane (Sociologists), Isabelle Fortier (Management), Marie- Josee Lorrain (Communication), Cécile Nicolas (Educational Sciences). Italian Agency of Sociologists of Communication, A National Project Against Bullying Among Young People and Call for Submissions for the QSC- Quaderni di Sociologia Clinica

By Gianluca Piscitelli

Our laboratory is currently collaborating, among other initiatives, with an Italian agency of sociologists of communication - called CONSCOM - which is implementing a national project against bullying among young people aged 30 and under. This project will cover the entire national community and territory and is entirely financed by the Italian government through the A.N.G. (Agenzia Nazionale Giovani, transl.: national youth agency).

We would be interested in spreading information among our members during the congress and publish a special issue for our editorial series, QSC-Quaderni di Sociologia Clinica, dedicated to the Portland congress.

Transnational Identities on Okinawa's Military Bases: Invisible Armies (c: 2020, e-book version published September 27, 2019)

By Johanna O. Zulueta, Ph.D., RC46 Regional Representative for Japanzulueta@soka.ac.jp

This book considers the role of civilian workers on U.S. bases in Okinawa, Japan and how transnational movements within East Asia during the Occupation period brought foreign workers, mostly from the Philippines, to work on these bases. Decades later, in a seeming “reproduction of base labour”, returnees of both Okinawan and Philippine heritage began occupying jobs on base as United States of Japan (USFJ) employees. The book investigates the role that ethnicity, nationality, and capital play in the lives of these base employees, and at the same time examines how Japanese and Okinawan identity/ies are formed and challenged. It offers a valuable resource for those interested in Japan and Okinawa, U.S. military basing, migration, and mixed ethnicities.

Revealing the Reality: Getting your Hands Dirty in Ethnographic Fieldwork.

By Miriam Boeri

A new book provides insights on the challenges you might face whether you are starting on your first ethnographic study or have been doing ethnography for years. From ethnographers conducting research inside prisons, the homes of methamphetamine producers, to the favelas of Brazil, their inside stories provide guidance on how to address unforeseen difficulties, Inside Ethnography: Researchers Reflect on the Challenges of Reaching Hidden Populations co-edited by Miriam Boeri and Rashi K. Shukla. Published by the University of California Press and released in November 2019, it presents a diverse array of disciplinary approaches, with a focus on strategies employed with populations at society's margins. Twenty-one (21) contemporary ethnographers examine their cutting-edge studies with honesty and introspection, drawing readers into the field to visualize the challenges they've faced. Contributing authors in this book, include Marie Rosenkrantz Lindegaard; Elizabeth Bonomo; Scott Jacques; Curtis Smith; Leon Anderson; Eugene Soltes; Merrill Singer; J. Bryan Page; Jason N Fessel; Sarah G. Mars; Philippe Bourgois; Daniel Ciccarone; Avelardo Valdez; Alice Cepeda; Charles Kaplan; Ana-Lilia Campos-Manzo; Honoria Guarino; Anastasia Teper; Robert Gay; Heith Copes; and Joshua Price. Inside Ethnography can be ordered at <https://www.ucpress.edu/book/9780520298248/inside-ethnography>

MEMBER UPDATES

Mariko Inoue is a professor of Sociology at Nara Gakuen University, Japan. She recently gave a presentation titled " Family Violence and Community Intervention in Japan" at the XIX ISA World Congress of Sociology held in Toronto, 2018. She has been engaged in clinical sociology studies and researches for about 20 years. Here she reports on the state of clinical sociology in Japan: In 1998, The Japan Sociological Society (the largest sociological association in Japan) held a symposium titled "The Conception of Clinical Sociology" at its annual meeting. This session elicited considerable attention among Japanese sociologists. Since then, the number of books and articles concerning clinical sociology has been increasing rapidly during the 2000s. Also, clinical sociologists have been working as practitioners in various areas, namely, juvenile justice, ADR (Alternative Dispute Resolution) procedure in family court and product liability center, to cite a few. Mariko has been working as a mediator at the ADR procedure in Kyoto Family Court for about 15 years. So it can't be said that Japanese sociologists are not very much familiar with clinical sociology. Last October, she has published the book titled Family Violence and Community Intervention (2018, Tokyo: Taga publishing company, written in Japanese)

She would like to keep in touch with all of RC46 members for the further development of Japanese Clinical Sociology.

Natalia S. Erokhova, along with her colleagues from Russia, Chile and Brazil participated in the International project "Intercultural Studies in Higher Education. Policy and Practice." One of the results of this engagement is the chapter on "System of Interaction Between Global Education and the National System of Education: A Social Tension Zone" published by Palgrave Macmillan Publishing House in the last quarter of 2019.

(<https://www.palgrave.com/gp/book/9783030157579#reviews>).

She would have presented her paper (co-authored with her colleague Margarita Kalashnikova, entitled "Psychosociogenetics in social therapy: Russian case" (Session 31: RC 46 Paper Session 2 on Clinical sociology interventions II) within the RC 46 sessions at the Annual Association of Applied and Clinical Sociology Conference in Portland, Oregon. But because of visa-related issues she missed the opportunity to do this. Program: <https://www.aacsnet.net/aacs-2019-annual-conference/>

Jan Marie Fritz (University of Cincinnati/ University of Johannesburg) was appointed to a Fulbright National Screening Committee for Applications to Scandinavia. She has received a small grant to work with the Department of Peace Studies at the University of Cape Coast in Ghana in January to February 2020. She also has been invited to give a response to keynote presentations at the Finland Annual Sociology Conference organized by the Westernmarck Society in Rovaniemi, Finland (March 26 and 27, 2020).
