Sociology of Islam (SOI) provides an international scholarly forum for research related to the religion and culture of Islam, Muslim societies, and social issues related to Muslims in socio-political context. Decidedly rooted in the sociological perspective, SOI takes an expansive and global view of this broad subject matter. SOI publishes multiple issues per year containing original peer-reviewed articles and book reviews on the sociological, political, anthropological, historical and other aspects of Islam and Muslim societies across all times and places. By promoting an academic understanding of the richly variegated and complex nature of both majority Muslim societies and of the issues related to the minority status of Muslims in other social contexts, in both thought and practice, Sociology of Islam makes a distinctive contribution to current scholarship in the field of sociology.

In many Western societies, there has been a tremendous increase in family diversity over the course of the past few decades, resulting in a considerable prevalence of non-traditional family forms. The increased instability of marital and non-marital unions entails new challenges for both parents and children. In this special issue, family studies scholars examine from a life course perspective how re-partnering processes work and how family relationships are rearranged in order to adapt to the altered needs and requirements of post-separation family life.

Children and parents have become a focus of debates on 'new social risks' in European welfare states. Policymaking elites have converged in defining such risks, and they have outlined new forms of parenting support to better safeguard children and activate their potential. Increasingly, parents are suspected of falling short of public expectations. Contributors to this special issue scrutinize this shift towards parenting as performance and report recent forms of parenting support.

Welcome

Welcome address by the President of the International Sociological Association

Margaret Abraham

Dear colleagues and friends,

On behalf of the International Sociological Association it is my distinct pleasure to welcome you all to the Third ISA Forum of Sociology in Vienna! The ISA holds the Forum every four years between ISA World Congresses and is specially developed as a space for the Research Committees, Thematic Groups and Working Groups to hold their interim meetings. However the Forum also has a theme selected by the Vice-President Research in consultation with the Local Organizing Committee that provides the RCs, TGs and WGs an opportunity to come together and share their research, theories, perspectives and methodologies with the broader public in the context of the Forum theme. The Third ISA Forum theme, “The Futures We Want: Global Sociology and the Struggles for a Better World” provides a broad and timely framework. It is also pertinent that the Forum is held in Vienna at a time when the European Union has been undergoing its own major political crisis resulting in fragmented responses to the migrant and global humanitarian crisis. In the past year we have witnessed vast numbers of people forced to leave their homes due to war, conflict and destruction. We have witnessed the dislocation and displacement of individuals, families and children; the power of governments in Europe to shut borders; and people bravely making life threatening journeys across land and sea in search of safety and the possibility of a better future. We have also witnessed private individuals, informal groups and organizations at local, national, and transnational levels, bravely helping and mobilizing for social justice and the well-being of all. Thus this Third ISA Forum, with its strong program and more than 4,000 registrants, provides a vital platform for us as sociologists to interrogate, debate and dialogue on the “futures we want,” as well as build and strengthen a global sociology that can contextualize, envision and engage in the struggles for a better world.

Much of the strength of this Forum is due to the scientific program developed by the participating ISA Research Committees and the Thematic and Working Groups. Credit also goes to ISA Vice-President for Research and President of the Forum, Markus Schulz, and the Research Coordinating Committee; Rudolf Richter, Chair of the Local Organizing Committee, together with Brigitte Aulenbacher, Vice-Chair LOC, Ida Seljeskog, LOC Coordinator, and members of the LOC. The ISA Secretariat team in Madrid led by its Executive Secretary, Izabela Barlinska has been crucial in all stages of preparation. Our special thanks to the University of Vienna for their generosity in providing a wonderful space to hold this immense sociological event.

To each of you conference participants who have come from all over the world, I hope this Third ISA Forum provides an excellent opportunity to share your research, learn from one another, enjoy the new intellectual challenges that emerge in international meetings and discussions, and connect with friends and even make new friendships, in the historic and beautiful city of Vienna. Once again a very warm welcome and I personally hope to meet many of you during this Third ISA Forum!

Message de bienvenue de la Présidente de l'ISA

Chers collègues, chers amis,

Au nom de l'Association internationale de Sociologie, c'est pour moi un grand plaisir de vous souhaiter à tous et à toutes la bienvenue à Vienne pour cette troisième édition du Forum de Sociologie ! Le Forum est organisé tous les quatre ans, entre deux congrès mondiaux de l'ISA, avec pour objectif premier d'accueillir les réunions de mi-mandat des comités de recherche, groupes thématiques et groupes de travail de l'Association. Mais le Forum, dont le thème est sélectionné par le Vice-Président chargé de la Recherche en concertation avec le Comité local d'organisation, offre également aux comités de recherche et aux groupes thématiques et de travail l'occasion de conjuguer leurs efforts et de partager recherches, théories, perspectives et méthodologies avec un plus large public, en lien avec le thème du Forum. Le thème de cette troisième édition, « Les avenir que nous voulons : La sociologie mondiale et les luttes pour un monde meilleur », propose un vaste cadre de réflexion qui résonne avec l'actualité. Le choix de Vienne est également fort bienvenu à un moment où l'Union européenne traverse une crise politique majeure qui se traduit par des réponses fragmentées face à la crise des migrants et humanitaire. Au fil des mois, nous avons vu un nombre considérable de personnes forcées d'abandonner leur foyer pour fuir la guerre, les conflits et la destruction. Nous avons vu le déplacement de personnes et de familles entières, et la capacité de gouvernements européens à fermer leurs frontières. Nous avons vu des personnes risquer leur vie en s'engageant dans de dangereuses traversées, sur terre comme sur mer, en quête d'un lieu sûr où vivre et pouvoir construire un avenir meilleur. Nous avons aussi vu de simples particuliers et des associations et collectifs informels, à l'échelle locale, nationale et internationale, prêter leur assistance et défendre courageusement la justice sociale et le bien-être de tous. En tant que sociologues, ce IIIe Forum de l'ISA, avec son programme très riche et ses plus de 4000 participants, nous fournit ainsi une occasion précieuse d'interroger, de débattre et de dialoguer sur les « avenir que nous voulons », et aussi de développer et consolider une sociologie globale qui soit à même de contextualiser, d'imaginer et de jouer un rôle dans les luttes pour un monde meilleur.

La force de ce Forum repose en grande partie sur le programme scientifique élaboré par les comités de recherche et groupes thématiques et de travail de l'ISA qui participent. Mais le mérite en revient également à Markus Schulz, Vice-Président de l'ISA chargé de la Recherche et Président du Forum, et au Comité de coordination de la Recherche ; à Rudolf Richter, Président du Comité local d'organisation, Brigitte Aulenbacher, Vice-Présidente, Ida Seljeskog, coordinatrice, et à l'ensemble des membres du Comité local d'organisation. Depuis Madrid, l'équipe du Secrétariat de l'ISA, conduite par sa Secrétaire Exécutive Izabela Barlinska, a également joué un rôle capital à toutes les étapes de préparation. Enfin, nous remercions tout particulièrement l'Université de Vienne d'avoir mis aussi généreusement à notre disposition ce formidable espace pour ce grand rendez-vous sociologique.

À vous tous qui êtes venus des quatre coins du monde pour participer à cette conférence, je souhaite que ce IIIe Forum de l'ISA soit une formidable occasion de partager vos recherches, d'apprendre les uns des autres, d'apprécier les nouveaux défis intellectuels qui émergent lors de ces rencontres et débats internationaux, et de communiquer avec des amis et nouer de nouvelles amitiés dans cette si belle ville historique de Vienne. Encore une fois, je vous souhaite chaleureusement la bienvenue et j'espère avoir l'occasion de rencontrer personnellement beaucoup d'entre vous pendant le Forum !

Discurso de bienvenida de la Presidenta de la ISA

Queridos colegas y amigos:

En nombre de la Asociación Internacional de Sociología es para mí un gran placer darles a todos y a todas la bienvenida al Tercer Foro de Sociología en Viena. La Asociación organiza el Foro cada cuatro años, entre dos congresos mundiales de la ISA, con el objetivo primero de reunir sus comités de investigación, grupos temáticos y grupos de trabajo. Pero el Foro, cuyo tema es seleccionado por el Vicepresidente para la Investigación en colaboración con el Comité Local de Organización, también ofrece a los comités de investigación y grupos temáticos y de trabajo una oportunidad para juntarse y compartir sus investigaciones, teorías, perspectivas y metodologías con un público más amplio, en relación con el tema del Foro. El tema de esta tercera edición del Foro, "Los futuros que deseamos: La sociología global y las luchas por un mundo mejor", proporciona un amplio marco de reflexión de evidente actualidad. También resulta oportuno que se celebre en Viena en un momento en el que la Unión Europea está sufriendo una grave crisis política que se traduce en respuestas fragmentadas frente a la crisis de los migrantes y humanitaria. A lo largo de los meses, hemos sido testigos de cómo un gran número de personas se han visto obligadas a abandonar sus hogares, huyendo de la guerra, los conflictos y la destrucción. Hemos visto cómo personas y familias enteras han sido desplazadas, y cómo gobiernos europeos han cerrado sus fronteras. Hemos visto personas arriesgar su vida para viajar por tierra y por mar en busca de un lugar seguro donde vivir y poder construir un futuro mejor. Hemos visto también cómo ciudadanos de a pie así como asociaciones y colectivos informales, a nivel local, nacional e internacional, han prestado su ayuda y defendido con valentía la justicia social y el bienestar para todos. Como sociólogos y sociólogas, este Tercer Foro de la ISA, con su programa potente y sus más de 4000 participantes, nos brinda pues una oportunidad única de cuestionar, debatir y dialogar sobre los "futuros que deseamos", y también desarrollar y consolidar una sociología global capaz de contextualizar, imaginar y participar en las luchas por un mundo mejor.

El Foro saca su principal fuerza del programa científico elaborado por los comités de investigación y grupos temáticos y de trabajo de la ISA que participan. Pero también quiero hacer extensivo mi agradecimiento a Markus Schulz, Vicepresidente de la ISA para la Investigación y Presidente del Foro, y el Comité de Coordinación de la Investigación; Rudolf Richter, Presidente del Comité Local de Organización, Brigitte Aulenbacher, Vicepresidenta, Ida Seljeskog, coordinadora, así como todos los miembros del Comité Local de Organización. Desde Madrid, el equipo del Secretariado de la ISA, dirigido por su Secretaria Ejecutiva Izabela Barlinska, también ha jugado un papel decisivo en todas las etapas preparativas. Y finalmente queremos transmitir un especial agradecimiento a la Universidad de Viena por haber tan generosamente puesto a nuestra disposición este fantástico espacio para este gran encuentro sociológico.

A todos los participantes de esta conferencia que han venido de todo el mundo, espero que este Tercer Foro de la ISA les proporcione una excelente oportunidad para compartir sus investigaciones, aprender de los demás, disfrutar de los desafíos intelectuales que surgen en reuniones y diálogos internacionales, así como comunicar con sus amigos y forjar nuevas amistades en esta maravillosa ciudad histórica de Viena. Una vez más, les doy una cálida bienvenida y espero conocer personalmente a muchos de ustedes durante este Foro.

Welcome and Introduction to the Forum Program by ISA Vice-President for Research and President of the Forum

WELCOME

Markus S. Schulz

Welcome to the Third ISA Forum of Sociology! Welcome to a festival of ideas in the splendid Austrian capital! Welcome to the hard intellectual work of pushing the boundaries of an academic discipline that is needed at this pivotal time more than ever. The Forum is convened under the motto “The Futures We Want: Global Sociology and the Struggles for a Better World.” This theme encourages a forward orientation in empirical, theoretical, and normative research. Protests around the globe have challenged inequality, oppression, and ecological destruction, and have insisted on the possibility of another, better world. They demonstrate the malleability of futures. Today’s intensifying uncertainties demand innovation in methods and theories. Tomorrow will no longer appear as pre-determined by inevitable trends but rather as a contingent outcome of complex, typically multi-scalar dynamics that vary in their intensity of contentiousness. Social actors aspire, desire, imagine, and struggle over futures. What can sociology contribute to these broader debates? How do assumptions about the future influence daily routines and long-term collective lives? How are risks identified, avoided, mitigated, transferred, or shared? What closes and opens the horizons of social imaginaries? How are different social actors and forces positioned to shape futures? How can the making of futures be democratized? What can be learned by comparing struggles in different countries and settings? How do emancipatory movements and everyday practices at the grassroots overcome discipline, exploitation, and misrecognition? What visions for alternative futures are imaginable, desirable, and achievable? What are viable roadmaps for social transformation? — These are just some of the key questions to be explored.

The Forum is above all a meeting place of the ISA’s research units. Fifty-seven Research Committees Working Groups and Thematic Groups, are participating with an amazing array of sessions across the full spectrum of sociological approaches and topics, ranging from inquiries into tiny micro-settings to planetary macro-trends. Close to 4,000 social scientists from all around the world are expected to gather in Vienna for several days of intense debates at the cutting edge of social research.

At the heart of the Forum are a series of Common Sessions that present distinguished speakers nominated by the ISA’s Research Committees, Working or Thematic Groups to address the common theme from the respective unit’s perspective. They provide opportunities to disseminate novel ideas to larger audiences, exchange state-of-the-art insights across specializations, and foster new, serendipitous connections among research units.

Launched in preparation of the Vienna conference and jump-starting the intellectual debate on the Internet, the WebForum (<http://futureswewant.net>) has become a thriving space that features a trailblazing series of essays by prominent authors, along with audiovisual content related to the broadly conceived Forum theme.

As any academic mega-event, the 2016 Forum is the product of joint efforts. Many thanks go to the dedicated Program Coordinators and Session Organizers for their enormous work, generous collegiality, and intellectual inspirations. Special thanks go to the Local Organizing Committee, led by Rudolf Richter, and our host institution, the University of Vienna, the many Austrian volunteers, as well as to the ISA Executive Committee, led by ISA President Margaret Abraham, the Research Coordinating Committee that formed the Program Committee, and the Executive Secretariat, led by Izabela Barlinska, without whom this Forum would not have been possible.

Enjoy the Forum’s manifold opportunities to meet colleagues from a diversity of backgrounds, exchange new thoughts, and participate in debates that open new horizons! Let us create together a Forum that is transformative in sociology’s engagement with our time’s enormous challenges and chances!

ISA Vice-President for Research and President of the Forum

Message de bienvenue et introduction au Programme du Forum du Vice-Président de l'ISA chargé de la Recherche, et Président du Forum

Bienvenue au III^e Forum de Sociologie de l'ISA ! Bienvenue à Vienne, la magnifique capitale autrichienne où nous vous convions à un véritable festival d'idées en même temps qu'à un intense travail intellectuel afin de repousser les frontières d'une discipline universitaire dont nous avons, dans ces moments cruciaux, plus jamais besoin. Ce Forum est organisé autour du thème « Les avenir que nous voulons : La sociologie mondiale et les luttes pour un monde meilleur », un thème qui se veut une invitation à une recherche empirique, théorique et normative tournée vers l'avenir. Partout dans le monde, des mouvements de protestation s'élèvent contre les inégalités, l'oppression et la destruction de l'environnement et affirment qu'un autre monde, meilleur, est possible. Par là-même, ils témoignent de la malléabilité des avenir possibles. Aujourd'hui, l'augmentation des incertitudes exige d'innover sur le plan méthodique aussi bien que théorique. L'avenir n'apparaîtra plus comme prédéterminé par des évolutions inéluctables mais plutôt comme le résultat incertain de dynamiques complexes le plus souvent multiscalaires, où la contestation peut varier en intensité. Les acteurs sociaux poursuivent, souhaitent, imaginent, et combattent des avenir possibles. Que peut apporter la sociologie à ces vastes débats ? Comment des postulats concernant l'avenir influent-ils sur les activités quotidiennes et le vécu collectif sur le long terme ? Comment les risques sont-ils identifiés, évités, atténués, transmis ou partagés ? Qu'est-ce qui réduit ou au contraire élargit l'horizon de nos imaginaires sociaux ? Comment les différents acteurs sociaux sont-ils positionnés pour influencer sur les futurs possibles ? Comment la construction des avenir peut-elle être démocratisée ? Quels enseignements peut-on tirer de la comparaison des luttes menées dans différents pays et dans différents contextes ? Comment les mouvements d'émancipation et les pratiques quotidiennes sur le terrain surmontent-ils les règles imposées, l'exploitation et le manque de reconnaissance ? Quelles visions alternatives de l'avenir sont de l'ordre de l'imaginable, du souhaitable et du réalisable ? Quelles sont les lignes directrices viables pour une transformation sociale ? Ce ne sont là que quelques-unes des questions essentielles à explorer.

Le Forum est avant tout conçu comme un point de rencontre pour les unités de recherche de l'ISA. Cinquante-sept comités de recherche, groupes de travail et groupes thématiques seront présents pour offrir un éventail impressionnant de sessions qui couvrent l'ensemble des approches et thématiques sociologiques et traitent aussi bien de micro-environnements et micro-situations que de vastes macro-dynamiques qui affectent la planète entière. À l'occasion de ce Forum, ce sont près de 4000 sociologues du monde entier qui sont attendus pour plusieurs journées d'intenses débats aux avant-postes de la recherche sociale.

Au cœur du Forum, on trouvera une série de sessions communes (Common Sessions) où des conférenciers de marque, désignés par les comités de recherche, groupes de travail ou thématiques de l'ISA, traiteront du thème commun du Forum du point de vue de leur unité de recherche respective. Ces sessions sont l'occasion de donner à connaître des idées innovantes à des publics plus vastes, d'échanger les connaissances les plus récentes d'un domaine de spécialité à l'autre, et d'encourager de nouveaux liens entre les unités de recherche.

Le WebForum (<http://futureswewant.net>), qui a été créé en amont de la conférence de Vienne pour lancer le débat intellectuel sur Internet, s'est converti en un espace fécond où trouver toute une série d'articles innovants signés par des auteurs de premier plan ainsi que des contenus audiovisuels sur le thème général du Forum.

Comme tout événement de cette envergure, le Forum 2016 est le fruit d'un travail collectif. Je voudrais remercier les responsables du programme (Program Coordinators) et les organisateurs des sessions pour le travail considérable qu'ils ont accompli, pour leur esprit de collaboration, leur engagement et leur inspiration intellectuelle. Je tiens également à remercier tout particulièrement le Comité local d'Organisation dirigé par Rudolf Richter, l'Université de Vienne qui nous accueille et les nombreux bénévoles autrichiens, ainsi que le Comité exécutif de l'ISA conduit par la Présidente de l'ISA Margaret Abraham, le Comité de coordination de la Recherche qui a constitué le Comité du Programme, et le Secrétariat exécutif dirigé par Izabela Barlinska, sans lesquels ce Forum n'aurait pas été possible.

Profitez des multiples possibilités qu'offre le Forum pour faire la connaissance de collègues venus d'horizons divers, échanger des idées nouvelles et participer à des débats qui ne manqueront pas d'ouvrir de nouvelles perspectives ! Faisons ensemble que ce Forum soit porteur de changement dans l'engagement de la sociologie, pour mieux faire face à notre monde contemporain avec ses énormes défis et opportunités !

Palabras de bienvenida e introducción al Programa del Foro por el Vicepresidente de la ISA para la Investigación y Presidente del Foro ¡Bienvenidos al Tercer Foro de Sociología de la ISA! Bienvenidos a Viena, maravillosa capital de Austria en la que están invitados a un auténtico festival de ideas a la vez que a un intenso trabajo intelectual a fin de ampliar las fronteras de una disciplina universitaria que, en estos momentos decisivos, aparece más necesaria que nunca. Este Foro está organizado en torno al tema “Los futuros deseados: La sociología global y las luchas por un mundo mejor”, un tema pensado para propiciar una investigación empírica, teórica y normativa orientada hacia el futuro. En todo el mundo, hay movimientos de protesta que se alzan contra la desigualdad, la opresión y la destrucción del medioambiente, haciendo hincapié en que otro mundo mejor es posible. Las incertidumbres crecientes exigen innovar tanto a nivel metodológico como teórico. El futuro ya no aparecerá como predeterminado por tendencias inevitables sino como el resultado incierto de dinámicas complejas que suelen ser multiescales y dan lugar a controversias más o menos intensas. Los actores sociales aspiran, desean, imaginan, y combaten futuros posibles. ¿Qué puede aportar la sociología a estos debates generales? ¿Cómo las hipótesis sobre el futuro influyen en las actividades cotidianas y la vida colectiva en el largo plazo? ¿Cómo se identifican, evitan, mitigan, transmiten o comparten los riesgos? ¿Qué es lo que abre, o cierra, el horizonte de nuestros imaginarios sociales? ¿Cómo distintos actores sociales se posicionan para influir sobre el futuro? ¿Cómo democratizar la construcción de posibles futuros? ¿Qué podemos aprender al comparar luchas que se han llevado en diferentes países y entornos? ¿Cómo los movimientos emancipatorios y las prácticas diarias de las bases consiguen superar las reglas impuestas, la explotación y la falta de reconocimiento? ¿Qué visiones alternativas para el futuro son imaginables, deseables y alcanzables? ¿Qué hojas de ruta son las viables para la transformación social? Éstas sólo son algunas de las muchas preguntas fundamentales por explorar.

El Foro está pensado en primer lugar como un punto de encuentro para las unidades de investigación de la ISA. Cincuenta y siete comités de investigación, grupos de trabajo y grupos temáticos participan a este Foro con un amplio abanico de sesiones que abarcan el conjunto de planteamientos y temáticas del área de la sociología, sea para tratar de micro-entornos y situaciones o de las amplias macro-dinámicas que afectan a todo el planeta. En esta ocasión, se esperan cerca de 4000 sociólogos y sociólogas de todo el mundo, reunidos para varias jornadas de intensos debates a la vanguardia de la investigación social.

En el centro de este Foro, está una serie de sesiones comunes (Common Sessions) presentadas por ponentes destacados que han sido nombrados por los comités de investigación, grupos de trabajo o temáticos de la ISA para tratar del tema común del Foro desde el punto de vista de su unidad de investigación respectiva. Estas sesiones son oportunidades para difundir ideas innovadoras a públicos más amplios, intercambiar los más recientes conocimientos de un área de especialización a la otra y fomentar nuevas conexiones entre las unidades de investigación.

El WebForum (<http://futureswewant.net>), creado para preparar la conferencia de Viena y lanzar el debate intelectual en Internet, se ha convertido en un vibrante espacio donde encontrar artículos innovadores escritos por autores destacados así como contenidos audiovisuales relacionados con el tema general del Foro.

Al igual que otros encuentros de esta envergadura, el Foro 2016 es fruto de un trabajo colectivo. Quisiera agradecer a los responsables del programa (Program Coordinators) y los organizadores de las sesiones por su tremendo trabajo, su espíritu de colaboración, su dedicación y su inspiración intelectual. También quiero expresar un agradecimiento especial al Comité Local de Organización dirigido por Rudolf Richter, a la Universidad de Viena que nos recibe y a los muchos voluntarios austríacos, así como el Comité Ejecutivo de la ISA presidido por Margaret Abraham, el Comité de Coordinación de la Investigación encargado de constituir el Comité del Programa, y el Secretariado Ejecutivo liderado por Izabela Barlinska – sin todos ellos, este Foro no hubiera sido posible.

Les invito a disfrutar de la multitud de posibilidades que ofrece este Foro para conocer a colegas de orígenes muy diversos, intercambiar nuevas ideas y participar en unos debates que sin lugar a duda abrirán nuevas perspectivas. ¡Juntos, podemos hacer que este Foro sea un motor de cambio en el compromiso de la sociología frente a nuestro mundo contemporáneo con sus enormes retos y oportunidades!

Welcome address by the Director General for Scientific Research and International Relations of the Austrian Federal Ministry of Science, Research and Economy

WELCOME

Barbara Weitgruber

It is a great pleasure for me to extend a warm welcome to the delegates of the Third Forum of the International Sociological Association to be held in Vienna from July 10 – 14, 2016.

Let me congratulate the ISA on the theme of the Forum “The Futures We Want: Global Sociology and the Struggles for a Better World.” It is of utmost importance for sociologists from across the world to contribute to evidence-based policy in our global efforts to find adequate solutions to overcome grand challenges such as demography, migration, climate change and many more.

In the European Union, one of the priorities of Horizon 2020, the Framework Programme for Research and Innovation, concerning the societal challenges is therefore to achieve breakthrough solutions based on multidisciplinary collaboration, including social sciences and humanities to tackle major concerns of citizens and society.

Besides, a number of pan-European socio-scientific infrastructure projects like the Consortium of European Social Science Data Archives (CESSDA), the European Social Survey (ESS) and the Survey of Health, Ageing and Retirement in Europe (SHARE) play an important role in these joint efforts. Austria takes an active part in these and other initiatives on the roadmap of the European Strategy Forum on Research Infrastructures (ESFRI).

Austria is also a member of the Joint Programming Initiative “More Years, Better Lives”, and has joined forces with other EU member states in supporting the scientific community by financing Joint Transnational Calls.

We also support the European Centre for Social Welfare Policy and Research which is situated in Austria and provides expertise in the fields of welfare and social policy development in a broad sense across Europe.

At the national level the Austrian Ministry of Science, Research and Economy has initiated jointly with the relevant stakeholders a process to develop an effective strategy for the humanities and the social sciences in the Austrian Research Area. A main part of this strategy is to strengthen the cooperation between universities and other research institutions. Besides, a national network-platform on “Demographic Change and Ageing in Austria” has been established by the Austrian Interdisciplinary Platform on Ageing.

Let me end by thanking everyone involved in planning and organizing the Third ISA Forum as well as all the active participants which have made such an attractive program possible.

I look forward to welcoming you all in Vienna for this Third ISA Forum, with more than 4,000 participants from 126 countries. I am convinced that all of you will contribute to a successful conference!

Message de bienvenue de la Directrice générale pour la Recherche scientifique et les Relations internationales du Ministère fédéral autrichien des Sciences, de la Recherche et de l'Économie

C'est un grand plaisir pour moi de vous souhaiter la bienvenue à ce III^e Forum de l'Association internationale de Sociologie (ISA) organisé à Vienne du 10 au 14 juillet 2016.

Permettez-moi de féliciter l'ISA pour le thème choisi pour ce Forum, « Les avenir que nous voulons : La sociologie mondiale et les luttes pour un monde meilleur ». Pour les sociologues du monde entier, il est capital de pouvoir contribuer à ce que les politiques publiques soient fondées sur des données scientifiques, dans le cadre des efforts déployés pour trouver des solutions propres à relever d'importants défis, notamment en matière de démographie, de migration et de changement climatique.

À l'échelle de l'Union européenne, l'une des priorités du Programme-cadre de Recherche et d'Innovation Horizon 2020, concernant les enjeux sociétaux, est ainsi de trouver des solutions innovantes grâce à une collaboration pluridisciplinaire qui inclue les sciences humaines et sociales pour examiner les principales questions qui intéressent les citoyens et la société.

Par ailleurs, plusieurs projets paneuropéens d'infrastructure socio-scientifique, tels que le CESSDA (Consortium européen des archives de données en sciences sociales), l'ESS (Enquête sociale européenne) ou SHARE (Enquête sur la Santé, le Vieillessement et la Retraite en Europe), contribuent de manière significative à ces efforts conjugués. L'Autriche participe activement à de telles initiatives dans le cadre de la feuille de route élaborée par ESFRI, le Forum stratégique européen sur les infrastructures de recherche.

L'Autriche participe également à l'initiative européenne de programmation conjointe More Years, Better Lives, et coopère avec d'autres États membres de l'UE pour soutenir la communauté scientifique en finançant des appels à projets transnationaux conjoints.

Nous soutenons également le Centre européen de Recherche en Politique sociale (European Centre for Social Welfare Policy and Research), établi en Autriche, qui offre son expertise dans les domaines du bien-être social et des politiques sociales pour l'ensemble de l'Europe.

À l'échelle nationale, le Ministère autrichien des Sciences, de la Recherche et de l'Économie a lancé en association avec les acteurs concernés une initiative visant à développer une stratégie efficace en faveur des sciences humaines et sociales dans l'Espace autrichien de la Recherche. L'un des éléments importants de cette stratégie consiste à renforcer la coopération entre les universités et les autres établissements de recherche. Par ailleurs, une plateforme réseau nationale sur « l'évolution démographique et le vieillissement en Autriche » a été mise en place par la Plateforme interdisciplinaire autrichienne sur le Vieillessement.

Permettez-moi de conclure ce message en remerciant tous ceux et celles qui ont participé à la conception et à l'organisation de cette III^e édition du Forum de l'ISA, ainsi que tous les intervenants qui ont permis d'offrir un programme aussi riche.

Je me réjouis à l'avance de vous accueillir tous à Vienne pour ce III^e Forum où plus de 4000 personnes venues de 126 pays sont attendues. Tous ensemble, vous allez contribuer au succès de cette conférence !

WELCOME

Es un gran placer para mí darles la bienvenida al Tercer Foro de la Asociación Internacional de Sociología que se celebrará en Viena del 10 al 14 de julio 2016.

Quisiera felicitar a la ISA por el tema escogido para este Foro, "Los futuros que deseamos: La sociología global y las luchas por un mundo mejor". Para los sociólogos alrededor del mundo, es fundamental contribuir a que las políticas sean basadas en datos científicos dentro de nuestros esfuerzos globales para encontrar soluciones adecuadas para hacer frente a grandes problemáticas como son la demografía, la migración, el cambio climático y otras muchas más.

Asimismo, a nivel de la Unión Europea, una de las prioridades del Programa-marco de Investigación e Innovación "Horizonte 2020" en relación con los retos sociales actuales, es buscar soluciones innovadoras mediante una colaboración multidisciplinaria que incluya las ciencias sociales y las humanidades para tratar los principales problemas de los ciudadanos y la sociedad.

Además, diversos proyectos paneuropeos de infraestructura socio-científica, como por ejemplo el CESSDA (Consortio europeo de bases de datos en ciencias sociales), la ESS (Encuesta Social Europea) o SHARE (Encuesta de Salud, Envejecimiento y Jubilación en Europa), contribuyen de manera significativa a estas y otras iniciativas en el marco de la hoja de ruta elaborada por el ESFRI, el Foro Estratégico Europeo sobre Infraestructuras de Investigación.

Austria también forma parte de la iniciativa europea de programación conjunta "More Years, Better Lives" y coopera con otros Estados miembros de la UE para apoyar la comunidad científica financiando convocatorias de proyectos transnacionales conjuntas.

También apoyamos el Centro Europeo de Investigación en Política Social (European Centre for Social Welfare Policy and Research), que está establecido en Austria y aporta su experiencia en el campo del bienestar social y el desarrollo de las políticas sociales en todos los países de Europa.

A nivel nacional, el Ministerio austríaco de Ciencias, Investigación y Economía ha iniciado junto con las partes interesadas un proceso con el fin de desarrollar una estrategia efectiva para las humanidades y las ciencias sociales en el Ámbito austríaco de la Investigación. Uno de los elementos principales de esta estrategia es reforzar la cooperación entre las universidades y los demás centros de investigación. Por otra parte, la Plataforma Interdisciplinaria austríaca sobre el Envejecimiento ha puesto en marcha una plataforma-red nacional sobre "cambio demográfico y envejecimiento en Austria".

Quisiera terminar agradeciendo a todos aquellos que han participado en la concepción y organización de esta tercera edición del Foro de la ISA, así como todos los ponentes quienes han permitido ofrecer un programa tan atractivo.

Me alegro darles la bienvenida en Viena para este Tercer Foro en el que se esperan más de 4000 participantes de 126 países. ¡Sin duda alguna van, entre todos, a hacer de esta conferencia un gran éxito!

Welcome address by the Dean of the Faculty of Social Sciences, University of Vienna

Ulrike Felt

It is an honour and a pleasure for me to welcome you warmly to the 3rd ISA Forum at the University of Vienna. It has been organized by the Department of Sociology, which is part of the Social Science Faculty which I have the privilege to care for as a Dean. This large Faculty, which is covering the major fields in the social sciences, is going through a process of important transformation: a lot of new faculty members have joined over the last few years, new research foci have emerged, our international orientation has been strengthened, and we have succeeded in integrating many young promising scholars. And we host nearly 13,000 students in four BA programs, seven MA programs and six PhD specialisations.

The Vienna Department of Sociology has been very proactively engaged in this transformation process, always reminding us that as social scientists we should not only excel in research on the international level but also try to impact the world we live in. Therefore I congratulate you for the topic of your meeting "The Futures We Want: Global Sociology and the Struggles for a Better World." It could not be more timely. I am convinced there will be many debates questioning what the "we" in the title might mean and who will be able to participate in this future "better world."

Some 4,000 sociologists from 126 countries around the world are expected to join us in Vienna. The Forum will be a point of integration: for researchers from different institutional backgrounds, at different stages of their career, from different corners of the world. Some 200 volunteers, most of them students, and 32 liaison persons taking care of the Research Committees, will participate in turning this event into a success. Thanks to all of them.

Let me end by thanking all those who have made this event possible and welcoming you to a meeting that hopefully will become a memorable moment of reflection, exchange and engagement.

Message de bienvenue de la Doyenne de la Faculté de Sciences sociales de l'Université de Vienne

C'est à la fois un honneur et un plaisir pour moi de vous accueillir à l'Université de Vienne pour ce III^e Forum de l'Association internationale de Sociologie. Le Forum est organisé par notre Département de Sociologie, qui fait partie de la Faculté de Sciences Sociales dont j'ai le privilège d'être la doyenne. La Faculté, qui couvre les principaux domaines des sciences sociales, offre quatre formations de licence, sept formations de master et six spécialités de doctorat et compte près de 13.000 étudiants. Elle fait actuellement l'objet d'importantes transformations : un grand nombre de nouveaux enseignants ont été recrutés ces dernières années, de nouveaux axes de recherche ont émergé, et nous avons renforcé notre orientation internationale et réussi à incorporer de nombreux jeunes chercheurs prometteurs.

Le Département de Sociologie de l'Université de Vienne a participé activement à ce processus de transformation en nous rappelant qu'en tant que spécialistes des sciences sociales, il nous faut non seulement poursuivre l'excellence dans nos recherches au niveau international, mais aussi chercher à avoir une influence sur le monde dans lequel nous vivons. C'est pourquoi je vous félicite pour le choix du thème de cette rencontre, « Les avenir que nous voulons : La sociologie mondiale et les luttes pour un monde meilleur », un thème éminemment d'actualité. Ce titre ne manquera pas de soulever de nombreux débats concernant l'identité de ce « nous », en nous appelant à nous interroger sur qui sera en mesure de participer à ce « monde meilleur » à venir.

Quelques 4000 sociologues venus de 126 pays du monde entier sont attendus à Vienne. Pour ces chercheurs en provenance de différents types d'institutions, originaires de différentes régions du monde, et qui se trouvent à différents stades de leur carrière, le Forum se veut un lieu d'intégration. Je tiens à remercier les quelque 200 bénévoles, pour la plupart des étudiants, ainsi que les 32 personnes chargées d'assurer la liaison avec les comités de recherche, qui sont ici présentes pour que ce rendez-vous soit un succès.

Je voudrais enfin remercier tous ceux qui ont fait que ce Forum soit possible, et vous souhaiter la bienvenue pour ce qui j'espère constituera un moment mémorable de réflexion, d'échange et d'engagement.

Discurso de bienvenida de la Decana de la Facultad de Ciencias Sociales de la Universidad de Viena

Para mí es un honor y un verdadero placer darles la bienvenida al Tercer Foro de la Asociación Internacional de Sociología celebrado en la Universidad de Viena. El Foro está organizado por nuestro Departamento de Sociología, que forma parte de la Facultad de Ciencias Sociales que tengo el privilegio de dirigir. La Facultad, que abarca todos los grandes campos de las ciencias sociales y ofrece cuatro programas de licenciatura, siete de máster y seis especializaciones de doctorado, cuenta con cerca de 13.000 estudiantes. En la actualidad se encuentra en pleno proceso de transformación: muchos nuevos docentes se han incorporado en los últimos años, se han incluido nuevas líneas de investigación, se ha reforzado nuestra orientación internacional y se ha logrado integrar numerosos jóvenes investigadores prometedores.

El Departamento de Sociología de la Universidad de Viena ha participado activamente a este proceso de transformación recordándonos que, como sociólogos, no sólo hemos de perseguir la excelencia en nuestro trabajo de investigación a nivel internacional sino también hemos de procurar influir sobre el mundo en el que vivimos. Asimismo, les felicito por haber elegido un tema tan oportuno para este Foro: "Los futuros que deseamos: La sociología global y las luchas por un mundo mejor". Sin duda este título abrirá muchos debates para intentar determinar quién es este "nosotros" incluido en "los futuros que deseamos" y quiénes podrán participar a ese futuro "mundo mejor".

Unos 4000 sociólogos procedentes de 126 países de todo el mundo se esperan para este Foro en Viena. Para todos aquellos investigadores de distintas procedencias institucionales, originarios de diferentes regiones del mundo y que se encuentran en diferentes etapas de su carrera, el Foro será un punto de integración. Quisiera dar las gracias a los 200 voluntarios, en su mayoría estudiantes, y a las 32 personas de contacto encargadas de asistir los comités de investigación, que estarán presentes para que este encuentro sea todo un éxito.

Para terminar, quisiera expresar mi agradecimiento a todos los que han hecho posible este Foro y darles la bienvenida para lo que sin duda será un momento memorable de reflexión, intercambio y compromiso.

Welcome address by the President of the Austrian Sociological Association

Katharina Scherke

Dear Colleagues,

The 3rd ISA Forum is going to take place in Vienna, which is a great honor for the Austrian sociological community. We would like to thank the Local Organizing Committee, foremost its chair Rudolf Richter (University of Vienna) and Brigitte Aulenbacher (University of Linz), for bringing the conference to Austria and for all the manifold activities and the work done over the past months to prepare for a successful event.

The motto of the Forum, “struggles for a better world,” reflects an idea that has attracted sociologists for a long time. From outside the discipline, political authorities as well as a wider public have often demanded from sociology to come up with ideas for controlling and developing society in accordance with the aims of social justice, inclusion and a better life for everyone. And many sociologists have indeed tried very hard to challenge this request. Today the question still remains open: Shall we as sociologists just describe society – or shall we also strive for a change to the better? And how shall we decide on what is a better world? Each generation of sociologists has to find a new answer, taking into account the most pressing societal challenges of their respective time. Under this perspective, the topic of the ISA Forum couldn’t be more timely as societies are currently undergoing entirely new forms of crises. Societal models of the “living together” are being contested all over the world not only due to economic and social alterations but also because the natural environment is going through fundamental changes. All this influences sociology’s attitudes towards the aim of improving societies.

Austria is a place where the question of how to develop sociology has been discussed for more than 100 years. Austria and the Central European region have a long tradition of sociological reasoning. Already at the beginning of the twentieth century, theoretical approaches such as Phenomenological Sociology (Alfred Schütz) or Conflict Theory (Ludwig Gumplowicz) were discussed here. Empirical research methods were developed early on, as in the “Marienthal Study” conducted by Marie Jahoda, Paul Felix Lazarsfeld and Hans Zeisel. Under the Nazi period, a heavy brain drain prevented sociology from being further established. It only recovered during the 1960s as a discipline taught at universities. Nowadays in Austria sociology can be studied at five universities as a major subject, and more universities offer it on an elective basis. Sociological research is performed not only at universities but also within different research centers. Currently, the Austrian Sociological Association has more than 500 members and runs twenty sections, covering various special fields of sociological interest.

We hope all participants will enjoy their stay in Vienna and Austria and will take interesting insights on how to reach the “Futures We Want”, a basic challenge for sociology closely connected to the history of our discipline, and a major issue that has provided many starting points for sociological research.

Katharina Scherke
President of the Austrian Sociological Association

Message de bienvenue de la Présidente de l'Association autrichienne de Sociologie

Chers collègues,

C'est un grand honneur pour la communauté des sociologues d'Autriche d'accueillir le III^e Forum de l'ISA à Vienne. Nous souhaitons remercier le Comité local d'organisation, et en premier lieu son Président Rudolf Richter (Université de Vienne) ainsi que Brigitte Aulenbacher (Université de Linz), pour avoir fait en sorte que cette rencontre se célèbre en Autriche, et pour les multiples activités et tous les efforts déployés tout au long de ces derniers mois pour en assurer le succès.

La devise de ce Forum, « les luttes pour un monde meilleur », illustre une idée à laquelle les sociologues sont depuis longtemps attachés. Par delà notre discipline, les autorités politiques tout comme de nombreux citoyens attendent souvent de la sociologie qu'elle avance des idées pour orienter et développer la société en accord avec les objectifs de justice sociale, d'inclusion et d'une vie meilleure pour tous. Et nombreux sont les sociologues qui se sont en effet appliqués à répondre à cette attente. Aujourd'hui la question reste ouverte : en tant que sociologues, notre rôle se limite-t-il à décrire la société, ou nous faut-il également chercher à changer les choses pour l'améliorer ? Et comment déterminer ce qui va dans le sens d'un monde meilleur ? Chaque génération de sociologues se doit de trouver une réponse nouvelle, en prenant en considération les grands défis sociétaux du moment. Dans cette perspective, le thème du Forum de l'ISA ne saurait être mieux choisi, les sociétés actuelles connaissant des crises aux formes entièrement nouvelles. Partout dans le monde, les modèles sociétaux du « vivre-ensemble » sont remis en cause, non pas seulement en raison de changements économiques et sociaux mais aussi parce que notre environnement naturel est sujet à de profondes transformations. Tout cela influe sur la manière dont la sociologie aborde l'objectif d'améliorer les sociétés.

En Autriche, cela fait plus d'un siècle que la question de savoir comment développer la sociologie fait débat. L'Autriche et plus généralement l'Europe centrale ont une longue tradition de réflexion sociologique. Déjà, au début du XX^e siècle, on s'y entretenait d'approches théoriques novatrices telles que la sociologie phénoménologique (Alfred Schütz) ou la théorie du conflit (Ludwig Gumplowicz). C'est là aussi que des méthodes de recherche empiriques sont nées, comme ce fut le cas avec « l'étude de Marienthal » menée par Marie Jahoda, Paul Felix Lazarsfeld et Hans Zeisel. La période nazie s'est traduite par une fuite massive des cerveaux, interrompant le développement de la sociologie comme discipline à part entière, et il faudra attendre les années 60 pour que la discipline soit rétablie dans les universités. Aujourd'hui en Autriche, cinq universités proposent une spécialisation en sociologie et bien d'autres l'offrent en matière secondaire. La recherche en sociologie s'effectue dans les universités mais aussi dans différents centres de recherche. À l'heure actuelle, l'Association autrichienne de Sociologie compte plus de 500 membres, et 20 sections couvrant divers champs de spécialisation dans le domaine de la sociologie.

À tous les participants à ce Forum, nous souhaitons de passer un agréable séjour à Vienne et en Autriche et d'y trouver des pistes intéressantes en vue des « avènements que nous voulons ». Il s'agit là d'un défi essentiel pour la sociologie, un défi étroitement lié à l'histoire de notre discipline et qui a souvent fourni des points de départ pour la recherche en sociologie.

Discurso de bienvenida de la Presidenta de la Asociación Austríaca de Sociología

Queridos amigos,

Es un gran honor para la comunidad de sociólogos y sociólogas de Austria saber que el Tercer Foro de la ISA se va a celebrar en Viena. Queremos dar las gracias al Comité Local de Organización, y en primer lugar a Rudolf Richter (Universidad de Viena) y Brigitte Aulenbacher (Universidad de Linz) por haber traído esta conferencia a Austria y por la multitud de actividades y todo el trabajo llevado a cabo estos últimos meses para asegurar que este Foro sea un éxito.

El lema del Foro, “las luchas por un mundo mejor”, ilustra una idea que interesa a los sociólogos desde hace mucho. Desde fuera de nuestra disciplina, las autoridades políticas así como muchos ciudadanos esperan a menudo de la sociología que proponga ideas para orientar y desarrollar la sociedad de acuerdo con los objetivos de justicia social, inclusión y una vida mejor para todos. Y muchos son los sociólogos quienes se han esforzado en responder a estas expectativas. A día de hoy la pregunta sigue abierta: Como sociólogos, ¿se limita nuestro papel a describir la sociedad, o hemos también de buscar cambiar las cosas para mejorarla? Cada nueva generación de sociólogos ha de buscar una nueva respuesta, teniendo en cuenta los grandes desafíos sociales del momento. Desde esta perspectiva, el tema del Foro de la ISA no podría ser más oportuno, sabiendo que las crisis que conocen las sociedades actuales tienen formas completamente nuevas. En todo el mundo, los modelos sociales de convivencia son cuestionados, no sólo debido a cambios económicos y sociales sino también porque nuestro entorno natural está sufriendo profundos cambios. Todo ello influye en la manera en que la sociología trata el objetivo de mejorar las sociedades.

En Austria, hace más de un siglo que el modo de desarrollar la sociología es objeto de debate. Austria y, más generalmente, Europa Central, tienen una larga tradición de reflexión sociológica. A inicios del siglo XX, ya se trataba de planteamientos teóricos novedosos tales como la sociología fenomenológica (Alfred Schütz) o la teoría del conflicto (Ludwig Gumplowicz). Fue también en Austria que se elaboraron métodos de investigación empíricos, como fue el caso con el estudio de Marienthal dirigido por Marie Jahoda, Paul Felix Lazarsfeld y Hans Zeisel. El período nazi se tradujo en una masiva fuga de cerebros, produciendo un parón en la consolidación de la sociología, de tal manera que hay que esperar hasta los años 60 para que vuelva a ser enseñada en las universidades austríacas. Hoy en día en Austria, cinco universidades ofrecen una especialización en sociología, y se propone como asignatura secundaria en muchas más universidades del país. La investigación sociológica se lleva a cabo en universidades pero también en centros de investigación de diferente tipo. La Asociación Austríaca de Sociología cuenta en la actualidad con más de 500 miembros, y 20 secciones que abarcan diversos campos de especialización dentro del área de la sociología.

Deseamos a todos los participantes a este Foro que disfruten de una agradable estancia en Viena y en Austria y que este encuentro sea una oportunidad para hallar perspectivas interesantes en la búsqueda de “los futuros que deseamos”. Se trata de un reto fundamental íntimamente vinculado con la historia de nuestra disciplina, que a menudo ha aportado puntos de partida para la investigación sociológica.

Welcome address by the Chair of the Local Organizing Committee

WELCOME

Rudolf Richter

Welcome to the ISA Forum 2016 at the University of Vienna. The Local Organizing Committee, consisting of representatives from all the departments of sociology at the universities in Austria and research institutes, has prepared an infrastructure for the interim meeting of the Research Committees, Working Groups and Thematic Groups of the ISA to discuss, present and reflect their scientific research under the general theme "The Futures We Want: Global Sociology and the Struggles for a Better World." Not foreseen at the time Vienna won the bid to host the Forum was the refugee problem which has divided Europe between a welcome culture and the closing of boundaries. We are in the middle of a struggle for a better world and sociological answers for reaching solutions are highly welcome.

You are welcome to experience the social science flair of Vienna. Whilst at the conference you might have time between the sessions to take a walk through the arcades of the university buildings and look at the busts of earlier professors known for their research in human and natural sciences. Although among those busts, you will not find any sociologists, as sociology as a study program was not established at the University of Vienna until 1966. But the city offers many places of sociological interest. Take a city tour and visit the Karl-Marx Hof, the socialist answer to the imperial palace of the monarch. Visit the coffee house where Leon Trotsky played chess, where novelists and intellectuals discussed the contents of the 250 newspapers and 22 languages displayed for the visitors (and look at how many papers and languages are offered nowadays). Visit the Naschmarkt, the biggest market in Vienna, and you will experience the international flair Vienna has with its 30% migrant population. Go to the place where Karl Polanyi lived with his family from 1924 to 1933 before he fled from the Nazis. On your way through Vienna you might find the street recently named after Dr. Otto Neurath, commemorating the founder of pictorial statistics. On this occasion you might get an impression of a newly built urban neighborhood off the touristic paths. If you join us on one of the offered tours to the wine gardens it is very possible you might sit in the garden where Max Weber relaxed after lectures during his short stay at the University of Vienna and from the not-so-rational bureaucracy of the university, as he noted in one of his letters. A ten-minute walk from the university will bring you to the place where Sigmund Freud met his patients and collected his antiques. On the offered tour to the Grammatneusiedl you can visit the research site of the Marienthal study, documented in a museum there.

I hope the ISA Forum in Vienna will inspire you to continue to struggle for a better world. We welcome you here to see, discuss and reflect.

Message de bienvenue du Président du Comité local d'organisation

Bienvenue à l'Université de Vienne pour l'édition 2016 du Forum de l'ISA. Le Comité local d'organisation, constitué de représentants de tous les départements de sociologie des universités autrichiennes et d'instituts de recherche en Autriche, a préparé une infrastructure pour cette rencontre à mi-parcours des comités de recherche, groupes de travail et groupes thématiques de l'ISA pour débattre, présenter et analyser leurs recherches autour du thème général « Les Avenirs que nous voulons : La sociologie mondiale et les luttes pour un monde meilleur ». Lorsque Vienne a été sélectionnée pour accueillir le Forum, on n'avait pas prévu le problème des réfugiés qui divise aujourd'hui l'Europe entre culture de l'accueil et fermeture des frontières. Aujourd'hui, alors que nous nous trouvons à l'épicentre d'une lutte pour un monde meilleur, des réponses sociologiques pour trouver des solutions sont fort bienvenues.

Nous vous invitons à découvrir l'étroite relation qui lie la ville de Vienne aux sciences sociales. Pendant la durée du Forum, peut-être trouverez-vous le temps entre deux sessions de vous promener sous les arcades de l'université et de découvrir les bustes d'anciens professeurs qui se sont illustrés pour leurs recherches dans le domaine des sciences humaines et naturelles. Parmi ces sculptures, vous ne trouverez cependant aucun sociologue, car ce n'est pas avant 1966 que les études de sociologie ont été introduites à l'Université de Vienne. Mais la ville offre de nombreux lieux d'intérêt sociologique. Visitez le Karl-Max-Hof, qui fut la réponse socialiste au palais impérial. Visitez le café où Léon Trotski jouait aux échecs, où romanciers et intellectuels débattaient du contenu de pas moins de 250 journaux disponibles pour les clients dans 22 langues (et comparez l'offre de journaux et de langues aujourd'hui disponible). Visitez le Naschmarkt, le plus grand marché de Vienne, pour saisir l'atmosphère internationale d'une ville qui compte 30% de population immigrée. Découvrez là où Karl Polanyi habitait avec sa famille de 1924 à 1933, année où il a fui le nazisme. En marchant dans la ville, il se peut que vous tombiez sur la rue qui porte depuis peu le nom du Dr. Otto Neurath, en hommage au fondateur des statistiques picturales. Vous pourrez à cette occasion découvrir un nouveau quartier, situé hors des sentiers battus. Et si vous vous joignez à nous pour l'une des visites proposées dans les guinguettes au milieu des vignobles, il se peut que vous vous retrouviez assis dans le jardin même où Max Weber, lors de son court séjour à l'Université de Vienne, venait se détendre après ses cours, à l'écart de la bureaucratie universitaire qu'il qualifia de « pas si rationnelle que cela » dans l'une de ses lettres. À dix minutes à pied de l'Université, vous vous retrouverez là où Sigmund Freud recevait ses patients et collectionnait des antiquités. Et si vous vous joignez à la visite proposée de Grammatneusiedl, vous pourrez visiter le site de recherche de l'étude de Marienthal, documentée dans le musée qui s'y trouve.

Je souhaite que le Forum de l'ISA à Vienne vous serve d'inspiration pour continuer à lutter pour un monde meilleur. Nous vous invitons ici à voir, à discuter, et à réfléchir.

Discurso de bienvenida del Presidente del Comité Local de Organización

Bienvenidos al Foro 2016 de la ISA en la Universidad de Viena. El Comité Local de Organización, integrado por representantes de todos los departamentos de sociología de las universidades y centros de investigación en Austria, se ha encargado de preparar las infraestructuras necesarias para esta reunión intermedia de los comités de investigación, grupos de trabajo y grupos temáticos de la ISA, en la cual podrán presentar, analizar y debatir de sus investigaciones científicas en torno al tema general del Foro "Los futuros que deseamos: La sociología global y las luchas por un mundo mejor". Cuando Viena fue seleccionada para acoger esta tercera edición del Foro, no se preveía la crisis de los refugiados que ahora divide Europa entre cultura de acogida y cierre de fronteras. En este momento, en el que nos encontramos en medio de una lucha por un mundo mejor, respuestas sociológicas en busca de soluciones son sumamente bienvenidas.

Les invitamos a descubrir la estrecha relación que une la ciudad de Viena con las ciencias sociales. Durante el Foro, tal vez entre dos sesiones tendrán la oportunidad de pasear por las pórticos de la universidad y descubrir los bustos de antiguos profesores renombrados por su trabajo en el campo de las humanidades o las ciencias naturales. Entre estos bustos no obstante, no encontrarán ningún sociólogo: los estudios en sociología no fueron establecidos en la Universidad de Viena hasta el año 1966. La ciudad ofrece sin embargo numerosos lugares de interés sociológico. Pueden acercarse al

Karl-Max-Hof, que fue la respuesta socialista al palacio imperial. Pueden visitar el café donde León Trotski jugaba al ajedrez y novelistas e intelectuales debatían acerca del contenido de nada menos que 250 periódicos publicados en 22 idiomas diferentes (y podrán comparar con la oferta actual de periódicos e idiomas). Pueden ir al Naschmarkt, el mercado más grande de Viena, para conocer el carácter internacional de una ciudad que cuenta con 30% de inmigrantes. Podrán descubrir dónde vivía Karl Polanyi con su familia de 1924 a 1933, año en el que huyó del nazismo. Paseando por la ciudad, puede que encuentren la calle que hace poco recibió el nombre del Dr. Otto Neurath, en homenaje al fundador de las estadísticas pictográficas. Puede ser una oportunidad para descubrir un barrio nuevo, lejos de las rutas turísticas. Si nos acompañan en una de las salidas que proponemos en los bares de vinos ubicados entre viñedos, puede que se sienten en el mismo jardín donde, durante su corta estancia en la Universidad de Viena, Max Weber venía a relajarse después de dar clase, lejos de la burocracia universitaria que describió en una de sus cartas como “no tan racional como lo parece”. A diez minutos andando desde la Universidad, encontrarán el lugar donde Sigmund Freud recibía sus pacientes y coleccionaba antigüedades. En la salida que proponemos a Grammatneusiedl, podrán visitar el lugar de investigación del estudio de Marienthal, así como el museo en el que está documentado.

Espero que el Foro de la ISA en Viena les sirva de inspiración para seguir luchando por un mundo mejor. Les esperamos aquí para ver, debatir, y reflexionar.

This should be done during the break preceding the session at the latest in order to save time between the presentations. Speakers will operate the slides themselves. If speakers want to use their own Mac, they need to bring a suitable VGA connector. We recommend using either PowerPoint or Adobe PDF presentation files saved on a USB device that is compatible with Microsoft Windows 7. The expected format of the presentation file is Microsoft Windows PowerPoint (version 2013 or previous versions). For roundtable sessions the presenters must bring their own laptops.

What is the Future?

John Urry

"John Urry combines here an extremely comprehensive yet very readable overview of the futures literature with a more detailed focus on some central themes. This learned yet very accessible book is in the best traditions of critical future studies. Anyone who hopes to be around for the next few years or longer should read it."

William Outhwaite, Newcastle University

The Metamorphosis of the World

Ulrich Beck

"This book, which its author, one of the most original and perceptive thinkers of our time, was prevented from completing by a sudden catastrophe, reads as a most thorough and exhaustive – indeed complete – description of our world: a world defined by its endemic incompleteness and dedicated to resisting completion."

Zygmunt Bauman

Strangers at Our Door

Zygmunt Bauman

This is a timely intervention in the debate on the refugee crisis in Europe, arguing that the perennial status of refugees as strangers, outsiders whose very presence calls attention to the fears and anxieties of an unstable world, is being exploited by politicians and the media in order to whip up a dehumanising moral panic. A plea for solidarity in the face of the refugee crisis from one of the world's leading thinkers.

PB | 9781509512171 | £9.99 | April 2016

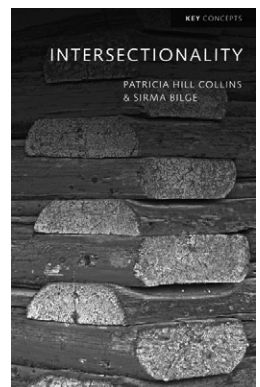

Intersectionality

Patricia Hill Collins & Sirma Bilge

"Comprehensive and highly accessible, Intersectionality is set to become the go-to book for students, activists, policy makers, and teachers looking for an analytic tool to help identify and challenge social inequalities and achieve social justice."

Nancy Naples, University of Connecticut

PB | 9780745684499 | £15.99 | April 2016

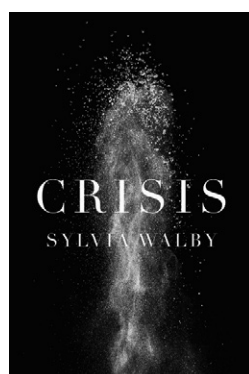

Crisis

Sylvia Walby

"Sylvia Walby's new complexity theory analysis of the current crises adds an essential dimension, addressing the financial, economic, welfare state and political ramifications of the crisis as strongly connected dynamics. Her book is an indispensable academic intervention in the politics of knowledge and empowers academics, politicians and citizens alike to address crisis."

Mieke Verloo, Radboud University

PB | 9780745647616 | £15.99 | September 2015

Gender, Work, and Economy

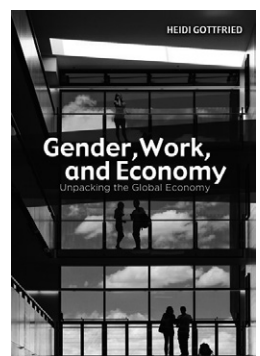

Unpacking the Global Economy

Heidi Gottfried

"Heidi Gottfried's synthesis and original analysis is a welcome addition to research trying to grasp the complexities of globalization from a feminist perspective. As review, critique and analysis, Gender, Work, and Economy makes an important contribution to our understanding of gendered social process, structure and relations."
