EDITOR'S INTRODUCTION

Dear members of RC35,

I hope you are all doing well, despite all contexts.

This new issue of the Newsletter brings some important information:

First, the final program of the ISA World Congress held during June in Melbourne, Australia, which was a great success, even in -for the first time ever- a hybrid format.

Second, general information on the very exciting Routledge publication of a collective book in which many of our RC members were able to contribute chapters.

Finally, the composition of the new board, starting this very year, and in place for the next four years, including some newer members.

In fact, I take this opportunity to let all of you know that the RC now has three new social media accounts running: a Facebook, a Twitter and an Instagram account, where most of the updating will be done in between Newsletters.

Here are the links:

- <https://www.facebook.com/100094996534162>
- <https://twitter.com/ISARC35>
- <https://instagram.com/rc35.isa/>

Wishing all this information will be of use, I send you all the best wishes, until next time,

Eugenia Fraga, Newsletter Editor.

RC35 ROUTLEDGE PUBLICATION

Since the last Newsletter, there was another great news: the publication of a Routledge compilation book in which many of you participated, so here goes some general information on it:

De-centering Global Sociology: The Peripheral Turn in Social Theory and Research

Editors:

- Arthur Bueno - University of Frankfurt
- Mariana Teixeira - Brazilian Center for Analysis and Planning
- David Strecker - Goethe University of Frankfurt

Abstract:

This volume explores the challenges posed to sociological theory and social science research by a growing need to foreground perspectives stemming from, and accounting for, subaltern groups, marginal categories, the Global South, and other politically peripheral regions. De-Centering Global Sociology radically questions some of the most enduring assumptions within sociological thought and social science research and illustrates the impacts of de-centering critical concepts in public policy and education. It proposes new places to build social theory, beyond Europe and the United States, offering debates on the present and future of the social sciences. This peripheral turn also has impacts on the development of pedagogical practices, curricula, and educational research that are more inclusive, and in a position to promote global citizenship.

RC35 ROUTLEDGE PUBLICATION

This book will be a valuable resource for researchers and academics with an interest in global social theory, decolonial and postcolonial studies, political theory, feminism, critical race theory, economic sociology, inequality studies, urban sociology, and the sociology of work, religion, and education. It will be of particular interest to those with a focus on citizenship, social policy, conviviality, social integration and solidarity, and new perspectives on multicultural education.

Table of contents:

Part I: Peripheralizing sociology

1. Putting southern perspectives to work: decolonising social theory - Raewyn Connell
2. Global inequalities: theoretical filiations and radical critique - Manuela Boatcă
3. Times and spaces of sociological and social theory: a simultaneous approach of 'peripheries' and 'centres' - Alejandro Bialakowsky and Pablo de Marinis
4. Critical theory from the Americas - Stefan Gandler

Part II: Peripheralizing politics

5. Undoing the epistemic disavowal of the Haitian revolution - Gurminder K. Bhambra
6. The periphery and its ambiguities: vulnerability as a critical concept for feminist social theory - Mariana Teixeira
7. Hong Kong as a dual periphery - Craig Browne and Phillip Mar
8. Peripheral politics and knowledge production: sensing the archive through Samora Machel and Steve Biko - Carlos Fernandes and James Merron

Part III: Peripheralizing Capitalism

9. Rethinking urban studies today: the Indian experience - Sujata Patel
10. The political economy of social integration: understanding the relation of global capitalism and state politics from a postcolonial perspective on contemporary slavery - David Strecker

RC35 ROUTLEDGE PUBLICATION

11. The standpoint of the proletariat today - Arthur Bueno
12. Collaboration across ontological worlds: reflections on intellectual brokerage from Islamic banking and finance - Aaron Z. Pitluck
